

Index

In some cases I standardized spelling, but in others I used the spelling in the text. Researchers will be able to see possible correlations between names: Christopher Reble and Ripble, for example. There are many variations among the Reyburn surnames as well, and cases of Bain/Bane/Bean or Hail/Hale, and many more. It will be necessary to go through the entire index when searching, to find all the variations of spelling for the desired name. I proofread the entire text of the transcription carefully against the original, but there are so many cases where the original was hard to read. I did the best I could.
